WORDING GUIDE

NOVEMBER 4, 2026 · LINES THAT HOLD ON INVESTORS.OCAL.CA AND IN EVERY RELEASE

FOR EVERYONE WHO WRITES ANYTHING INVESTORS WILL READ

The site, the releases, the deck, the fact sheet and the call script use the same words. This guide is the single list. When a line here changes, it changes in content.py first and everywhere else the same day.

1. LINES THAT HOLD

- Matthew Friesen is Executive Chairman and Director. Mehdi Moghareh is Chief Executive Officer.
- OCAL is a technology-enabled automotive financing and purchasing platform that solves the customer's problem first. Never 'virtual' anywhere in the descriptor, never 'virtual dealership', 'online car dealer' or 'the car dealer with no cars' (Mehdi and Shushu, 27 October 2026; Matthew, 1 November 2026). Every page follows the same spine: problem, platform, solution, thesis.
- Zero standing inventory. No cars on a lot. We stock access. Never 'zero inventory' on its own.
- OPENLANE is OCAL's auction and sourcing channel, never 'exclusive' (Garrett Lee, 31 October 2026). More than 3,000 vehicles are visible on its Canadian marketplace on a typical day (marketplace visibility, not owned inventory); OCAL owns none of them until a customer is approved.
- OCAL is the licensed motor dealer of record on every transaction. It is not a broker. The lender holds the loan; OCAL holds none.
- FY2025 revenue is $6.48 million, audited (year ended 31 August 2025). Every financial figure on the site is from the audited FY2025 and FY2024 statements (DMCL LLP). Nothing from FY2026 until the audited statements are filed.
- More than 1,500 funded vehicle transactions since 2021, everywhere, never 1,250. The count is a supplementary financial measure (NI 52-112), so the definition sentence sits beside its first use on every page: A funded vehicle transaction is a retail vehicle sale arranged through OCAL's platform for which the customer's financing contract was funded by a lender and the vehicle was delivered to the customer. The cumulative count is drawn from the Company's transaction records and lender reporting since its first funded transaction in 2021 and is not a measure presented in its financial statements.

- Rates carry their period: fewer than one percent of vehicle loans arranged have resulted in repossession and about 99 percent of signed contracts were funded, both from the first funded transaction in 2021 to 30 September 2026, management information based on lender reporting; about 98 percent of funded transactions include a protection product; repeat and referral customers about 17.6 percent of funded transactions over the trailing twelve months (3 November 2026 release).
- No per-vehicle dollar figures, no fixed-cost figure, no break-even count, no forecast, no plan-case table, no growth-capital amount and no cash figure between reporting dates anywhere on the site. Operating leverage is told with the audited lines (revenue up 18.8 percent, gross profit up 32.7 percent, operating expenses down 9.8 percent, operating loss halved) and the words 'the cost base is largely fixed'. Per-vehicle figures appear only as reported in a monthly or annual results release, labelled and reconciled there.
- Roadmap wording: British Columbia and Alberta now; Manitoba next (dealer permit application under way with the regulator, office inside the OPENLANE Winnipeg auction facility arranged, opening targeted for December 2026 when the permit is granted; also serves Saskatchewan and northwestern Ontario); Ontario registration under way, targeted for 2027, subject to registration and capital; then the Maritimes; the United States from 2028, after the Canadian roll-out. No Texas, no Quebec, never Washington State, no US detail beyond that line.
- Lenders named publicly: RBC, Santander, iA Auto Finance, Eden Park, LendCare, Rifco and Iceberg (seven). No others, and never 'half of Canada's auto lenders'.
- Hasneen Jalil leads technology and the demand engine; never CTO. Lead generation, the CRM and the AI sales agents run on one platform; nothing about who owns the supplier. Matthew's bio: his family owned and operated the Vancouver Auto Auction for 28 years and he was part of its $50 million sale to ADESA (now OPENLANE); he led the $56 million sale of Global Plastics to Kinderhook; he was part of the approximately $300 million sale of Dispensing Dynamics International (DDI) to Hunter Industries. No other company boards.
- Operating metrics are management information, unaudited, defined once and reported every month in the monthly results release, historical only. The first monthly results release is 10 November 2026 (October 2026).
- No share-price target, no valuation line, no financing terms, and no statement about who has been buying or selling the stock, anywhere.
- Forward-looking material carries the legend and points to the assumptions and the risk factors in the Filing Statement.
- No competitor is named or described on the investor site. Industry statistics with a named source are fine; other companies are not.

- Nothing about an OTC quotation, DTC eligibility or any United States structure until a release carries it.
- No em dashes or en dashes. Canadian spelling.

2. WORDING THAT GOES, AND WHAT REPLACES IT

GOES	REPLACED BY
'Asset-light automotive brokerage model'; 'broker'; 'brokerage platform'	'Licensed motor dealer of record on every transaction, with no standing inventory and no loans on the balance sheet.' OCAL is not a broker.
'Zero inventory'; 'no inventory'	'Zero standing inventory' or 'no cars on a lot'. A vehicle is on OCAL's books for three to five days between purchase and delivery, which is why the balance sheet shows a small inventory and floorplan balance.
'A digital inventory of 3,000+ vehicles' on its own; 'five auction supply channels'; 'OPENLANE, our exclusive auction and sourcing channel'	'More than 3,000 vehicles visible on OPENLANE's Canadian marketplace on a typical day; OCAL owns none of them. OPENLANE is OCAL's auction and sourcing channel.' Never 'exclusive' (Garrett Lee, 31 October 2026).
'Revenue comes from financing commissions'	'Retail vehicle sales are about nine-tenths of revenue; finance, insurance and other income is the rest; the finance and protection layer carries most of the gross profit.'
'Multi-trillion-dollar automotive ecosystem'; 'Canada's first'; any superlative	A sized, sourced line: 'Canadians buy about three million used vehicles a year, more than $100 billion worth.' Superlatives only with a named third-party source on the page.
'$6.88M' or '$6.84M' FY2025 revenue	'$6.48 million, audited (year ended 31 August 2025)'. The deck and fact sheet carrying $6.88M come off the site; Shushu's own deck is hers to send.
'Matthew Friesen, Chairman' or 'CEO'	'Matthew Friesen, Executive Chairman and Director'. Mehdi Moghareh is Chief Executive Officer.
'Hasneen Jalil, CTO'; 'founder of Canada Auto Experts'	'Hasneen Jalil leads technology and the demand engine'. Never CTO, and nothing about Canada Auto Experts or EasyPear until release 10 is issued.
'We acquired Canada Auto Experts and EasyPear' (with consideration)	'Lead generation, the CRM and the AI sales agents run on one platform' until release 10 (scheduled 17 November 2026) is issued; then one sentence in the release's words.
Any share-price or valuation target; 'cheap'; 'undervalued'; 'one year of audited revenue'; 're-rating'	Nothing. No valuation line of any kind, and no statement about who has been buying or selling the stock.

Monthly run-rate targets, break-even arithmetic, 'at 30 cars we make $1M', 'fixed costs of about $160,000 a month'	Historical metrics only, in results releases, reconciled. Everywhere else the audited lines carry operating leverage: revenue up 18.8 percent, gross profit up 32.7 percent, operating expenses down 9.8 percent, 'the cost base is largely fixed'. No targets anywhere.
'Manitoba licence application filed'; 'licence expected in November'	'Dealer permit application under way with the regulator; office inside the OPENLANE Winnipeg auction facility arranged; opening targeted for December 2026, when the permit is granted.'
A rate without a period ('repossessions under one percent')	'Fewer than one percent of the vehicle loans arranged from the first funded transaction in 2021 to 30 September 2026 have resulted in repossession (management information, lender reporting)'; the same period for 'about 99 percent funded'. The funded-deal count carries its definition sentence beside its first use on every page (NI 52-112).
Cash balance between reporting dates; any FY2026 figure before the audit	'Cash at each reporting date is in the filed statements.' 'Fiscal 2026 closed 31 August; audited results by 29 December.'
'Guaranteed approval', 'approved in minutes', 'lowest rates' (consumer claims)	Not on the investor site at all. Consumer wording lives on ocalfinancial.ca under its own rules.
Any named competitor (online retailers, dealer groups, lenders, other issuers) and any comparison to one	Nothing. Industry statistics with a named source (Presidio-NCM, Cox, J.D. Power, TransUnion, Equifax, Angus Reid, Statistics Canada) carry the argument; other companies are never named or described on the investor site. Matthew's instruction, 23 October 2026.
Em dashes, en dashes	Commas, colons, periods, parentheses.

3. THE OPERATING METRICS, DEFINED ONCE

METRIC	DEFINITION (THE RELEASE PROGRAM'S BLOCK, 23 OCTOBER 2026)
Vehicles funded and delivered	Retail vehicle sale contracts funded by a lender and delivered to the customer in the calendar month. Counted once, in the month the lender funds it.
Average vehicle selling price	Vehicle sales revenue in the month divided by vehicles funded and delivered, before taxes and protection products.
Deal gross profit per vehicle (management basis)	Gross profit on the vehicle plus finance, insurance and protection product income, per funded vehicle, before inventory write-downs and before the auction, reconditioning and transport costs that IFRS places in cost of sales. Split into vehicle margin and finance, insurance and protection income. Non-IFRS; management information.

Gross profit per vehicle (IFRS basis)	Gross profit as reported in the financial statements for the month, divided by vehicles funded and delivered, with the items making up the difference from the deal basis stated beside it. Per-vehicle figures appear once the CFO confirms the vehicle counts from the ledger (30 October 2026).
Gross margin	Gross profit (IFRS basis) as a percentage of total revenue in the month. FY2025 audited: 12.5 percent.
Period and cadence	Calendar month; the monthly results release after the month closes; October 2026 first, on 10 November 2026; each figure beside the prior month; monthly figures 'approximately'; once started, the series continues in weak months. No break-even arithmetic anywhere.

Master source: OCAL\Press Releases\02 Scheduled\00 Release program 2026-10-23 - calendar, operating update block and drafting notes (internal).md. Terence settles the exact definitions once before the October update; they then never change, and the site's Operating metrics page is updated to match in the same rebuild.

Non-IFRS note, verbatim, once per release and on the Operating metrics page: Vehicles funded and delivered is a supplementary financial measure, and average vehicle selling price, gross profit per vehicle and gross margin per vehicle are non-GAAP financial measures or ratios; none is a measure defined under IFRS. OCAL calculates them as described on the Operating metrics page, applies the same definitions every period, reports them unaudited, and reconciles the per-vehicle figures to the revenue and gross profit lines of its financial statements in the release that carries them. They should be read with the financial statements and MD&A filed on SEDAR+.

4. STANDARD TEXTS

Forward-looking legend (site pages that carry plans)

This page contains forward-looking statements, including statements about planned markets, licensing, operating metrics and financing. They are based on management's current expectations and assumptions, are not guidance, and are subject to the risks described in OCAL's Filing Statement dated 9 July 2026 and its continuous disclosure on SEDAR+. Actual results may differ materially. OCAL does not undertake to update them except as required by law.

About OCAL (release boilerplate and vendor description)

OCAL Financial Inc. (TSXV: OCAL) (FSE: JC3) is a technology-enabled automotive financing and purchasing platform transforming how Canadians finance and purchase vehicles. Built around an approval-first approach, OCAL connects customers with suitable financing options before sourcing a vehicle that meets their needs and budget. Its integrated platform brings together credit assessment and financial guidance, lender matching, vehicle sourcing, digital transactions and home delivery anywhere in the provinces it serves, eliminating the need to visit a traditional dealership. OCAL holds no standing vehicle inventory; it sources each vehicle only after a customer is approved, through OPENLANE Canada, its auction and sourcing channel. OCAL earns revenue from vehicle sales and related finance and protection products, and does not hold consumer loans or assume credit-default risk. Licensed in British Columbia and Alberta, OCAL generated revenue of $6.48 million (audited) in the fiscal year ended August 31, 2025 and has completed more than 1,500 funded vehicle transactions to date. Investor information: investors.ocal.ca. (As issued 3 November 2026; the funded-transaction sentence carries its NI 52-112 definition in the release body.)

llms.txt for ocalfinancial.ca (replaces the file that says 'auto finance broker')

OCAL Financial Inc. (TSXV: OCAL) is a licensed motor dealer in British Columbia (VSA D50207) and Alberta (AMVIC B2036050) that sells and finances used vehicles entirely online. Customers get pre-qualified with a soft credit check; the lender makes the final approval; OCAL then sources the vehicle through OPENLANE, its auction and sourcing channel, and delivers it. OCAL holds no standing inventory and no consumer loans. Operating since April 2021. Investor information: https://investors.ocal.ca/. Consumer application: https://ocalfinancial.ca/get-approved/auto.

Title-tag pattern

'{Page} | OCAL Financial (TSXV: OCAL)' or the ticker inside the title, under 60 characters. Meta descriptions 140 to 155 characters, naming the ticker and what is on the page. Release pages: '{Headline} | OCAL Financial (TSXV: OCAL)'; description is the first sentence after the dateline.

5. VOICE

- Advocate, with the facts straight. Every OCAL document is written as the company's advocate: accurate facts, constructive framing, risks stated with what is being done about them.
- Lead with the answer. Short sentences, one idea each. Numbers in tables or tiles, not stacked in prose. Concede real trade-offs (thin volume, early stage, going-concern note) before the reader finds them.
- Sound like the founders. 'We stock access.' 'Approval first, car second.' 'The failures all owned cars.' Pitches written from the founders sound like the founders; pitches written from decks sound like decks.
- No filler. No 'leverage', 'seamless', 'ecosystem', 'journey', 'cutting-edge', 'game changer', 'in today's'. Canadian spelling. Numbers with a date and a source.
- Same words everywhere. Release, page, deck, script, vendor profile. One set of definitions. One revenue figure. One title for Matthew.
