TSXV: OCAL · FSE: JC3 · INVESTOR RELATIONS

OCAL Financial is a technology-enabled automotive financing and purchasing platform. We redesigned the entire vehicle purchasing process around the customer's financial eligibility, needs and convenience: approved by a lender first, then the one vehicle that approval supports, sourced through OPENLANE and delivered to the driveway anywhere in the province. Zero standing inventory, no loans on our books, and audited statements on the public record.

THE COMPANY IN FOUR NUMBERS

FY2025 revenue, audited	funded vehicle deals since 2021	standing inventory	consumer loans held
Year ended 31 August 2025, up 19% from $5.45M, with no new market opened	Two provinces, no growth capital, 17.6% repeat and referral (trailing twelve months)	A vehicle is on our books for three to five days, bought only after its buyer is approved	Lenders fund the contract and carry the credit risk; OCAL earns the margin on every transaction

A funded vehicle transaction is a retail vehicle sale arranged through OCAL's platform for which the customer's financing contract was funded by a lender and the vehicle was delivered to the customer. The cumulative count is drawn from the Company's transaction records and lender reporting since its first funded transaction in 2021 and is not a measure presented in its financial statements.

WHY INVESTORS LEAN IN

The problems OCAL solves

Some people cannot get approved where they shop. Some cannot find the right vehicle at a payment they can carry. Some live hours from the nearest lot. Some have never had financing explained to them. OCAL solves each of these, in that order, and every one solved is a funded transaction.

Proven commercial traction

More than 1,500 funded vehicle transactions since 2021 and audited revenue of $6.48 million in fiscal 2025, up 19 percent, from two provinces with no growth capital. OCAL generates revenue today; it is not developing a product.

Operating leverage

The cost base is largely fixed: licences, people, systems and an office that do not grow with the count. In fiscal 2025 revenue rose 18.8 percent and gross profit 32.7 percent while operating expenses fell 9.8 percent, and the operating loss halved. As volume increases the Company has the potential to spread its fixed costs across more vehicle sales. The number that moves is the count.

THE AUDITED RESULTS

Fiscal 2025 beside fiscal 2024, from the audited statements

Investors used to spend the first half hour of every call rebuilding OCAL's numbers from scraps. Here are the audited totals for the year ended 31 August 2025 beside the year before (DMCL LLP): revenue up 19 percent, gross profit up 33 percent, operating expenses down 10 percent, the operating loss halved and cash from operations positive. From 10 November 2026, the operating metrics for each closed month are published in a monthly results release under fixed definitions and kept on the Operating metrics page.

PROBLEM. PLATFORM. SOLUTION. THESIS. (/WHY-OCAL/)

Title tag: Why Invest in OCAL Financial (TSXV: OCAL)

Meta description: Why invest in OCAL: the problem, the platform, the solution and the thesis. Approval first, zero standing inventory, audited growth, operating leverage.

THE INVESTMENT CASE

Most Canadians still buy a vehicle the way the industry was built: drive to a lot, choose from what is parked there, and let the finance desk fit a loan to that vehicle. OCAL redesigned the entire process around the customer's financial eligibility, needs and convenience. Here is the problem, the platform that solves it, what the customer gets, and the economics that make investors lean in.

Buttons: Download the investor brief | Book a call

$6.48M	12.5%	1,500+	3 to 5
FY2025 revenue, audited	gross margin, rising	funded deals	days a car is on our books
up 19% from $5.45M	from 11.2% the year before	since April 2021, two provinces	purchase to delivery

A funded vehicle transaction is a retail vehicle sale arranged through OCAL's platform for which the customer's financing contract was funded by a lender and the vehicle was delivered to the customer. The cumulative count is drawn from the Company's transaction records and lender reporting since its first funded transaction in 2021 and is not a measure presented in its financial statements.

1. The problem OCAL exists to solve

Four problems bring a customer to OCAL. They cannot get approved where they shop. They cannot find the right vehicle at a payment they can carry. They live hours from the nearest lot, with few options and no delivery. Or nobody has ever explained to them how vehicle financing works. The industry was built to sell what is parked on the lot, so the lot, not the customer, drives the sale: the average dealership holds a used vehicle 48 days and pays about $90 of floorplan interest on it to clear about $1,234 of gross (Presidio-NCM, Cox, 2024 to 2026). 68 percent of Canadians say they do not trust dealerships to act in their interest (Angus Reid, 2025), and 48 percent want to apply for credit online but only 33 percent can (Cox, 2026). The demand to buy differently was never the problem. The process was.

2. The platform

OCAL is a technology-enabled automotive financing and purchasing platform. One workflow carries the customer from a credit application on their phone to lender approval, financial guidance in plain terms, vehicle sourcing, digital contracting and delivery anywhere in the province. The approval comes first, so the vehicle is chosen to fit the customer's eligibility and budget, never the other way around. OPENLANE is OCAL's auction and sourcing channel: more than 3,000 vehicles are visible on its Canadian marketplace on a typical day, and none of them is on OCAL's balance sheet. OCAL is the licensed motor dealer of record on every transaction, holds no standing inventory, and owns a vehicle for three to five days between purchase and delivery, financed on a purchase line for exactly those days. The lender funds the contract and carries the credit risk.

3. The solution, as the customer sees it

- They know what they can afford before they fall in love with a truck. The approval comes first, so nobody is steered into the vehicle someone else needs to move. The choice is not forty vehicles on a lot: it is any vehicle on OPENLANE's marketplace that fits the approval, bought the day they say yes.
- Speed, without a visit. Application to approval in hours, approval to delivery in three to five business days anywhere in the province, every step on the phone. The AI agent answers the 3 am application from the night-shift worker who used to wait until 9.
- The right lender for their credit, prime to non-prime. Seven lenders are on our panel, prime to non-prime: RBC, Santander, iA Auto Finance, Eden Park, LendCare, Rifco and Iceberg. A prime customer gets a prime rate; a near-prime file can still be placed with a finance company on the panel, explained in plain terms, not a high-rate note with a GPS cut-off switch.

4. Traction and operating leverage

OCAL already generates revenue: more than 1,500 funded vehicle transactions since 2021 and audited revenue of $6.48 million in fiscal 2025, up 19 percent, on an asset-light structure with no standing inventory. Gross profit rose 33 percent to $810,751 and the gross margin to 12.5 percent, and 87 percent of that gross profit came from finance, insurance and protection products, the layer that sits on top of every vehicle sale. Operating expenses fell 9.8 percent to $1,114,195 in the same year, the operating loss halved, and cash from operating activities turned positive. The cost base is largely fixed and does not grow with the count, so as volume increases the Company has the potential to spread it across more vehicle sales. The constraint has never been demand. It is licences, people and lender capacity, and all three are being added now.

WHAT TO WATCH	WHERE TO FIND IT	WHAT IT MEANS
Vehicles funded and delivered	Operating metrics, reported every month from the 10 November 2026 release	The count is the number the model turns on
Gross profit per vehicle and gross margin	Operating metrics, under fixed definitions	Vehicle margin, lender reserve and protection products; most of the gross profit sits in the finance and protection layer
Operating expenses	Audited statements and MD&A	$1,114,195 in fiscal 2025, down 9.8 percent while revenue grew 18.8 percent; largely fixed, so each added vehicle carries more of it

Operating metrics are management information, unaudited, historical only, and are published in each monthly results release under the definitions on the Operating metrics page.

5. Why now

- The payment is the purchase. 77% of Canadian new-vehicle buyers finance or lease and 57% of new loans run 84 months or longer, at an average payment near $880 (J.D. Power, 2025). The average new auto loan reached $36,979 in mid-2026 while new loan openings fell 9.2% (Equifax): bigger loans, fewer approvals. Approval first sets the payment before the car is chosen, the only order that works for that buyer.
- The banks narrowed the credit box. Six in ten households earn under $100,000 and 28% of credit-active Canadians sit below prime, about nine million people (TransUnion). Several large banks have narrowed their indirect auto lending. OCAL's panel covers both ends, prime and non-prime, through seven lenders.
- The supply is where we buy. Dealer trade-ins, off-lease returns, retired rental units and repossessions flow through the wholesale auctions, and OPENLANE is the largest of them in Canada. Only licensed dealers can buy there, and OCAL buys against an approval, never for a lot.
- Buyers want the financing step online, and do not trust the desk. 48% of buyers want to apply for credit online but only 33% can (Cox, 2026); 68% of Canadians do not trust dealerships to act in their interest (Angus Reid, 2025). The step buyers most want online is the one we moved first.

6. One machine, copied

Every new market is a copy of the first: a licence, a bond, a small office and a small local team, not a building and not a lot. Canadians buy about three million used vehicles a year, more than $100 billion worth, so OCAL needs only a fraction of one percent of any market it enters.

MARKET	STATUS AT 4 NOVEMBER 2026	PLANNED OPENING	WHAT IT ADDS
British Columbia and Alberta	Licensed, five years of history	Home base	The proven machine; the head office in Vancouver and the hub in Edmonton
Manitoba	Dealer permit application under way with the regulator; office inside the OPENLANE Winnipeg auction facility arranged	Next: targeted for December 2026, when the permit is granted	Serves Saskatchewan and northwestern Ontario too
Ontario	Registration under way	Targeted for 2027, subject to registration and capital	About 40% of Canada's market

The Maritimes	Planned	After Ontario	Same playbook: one licence, one office, one local team
United States	Planned	From 2028, after the Canadian roll-out	The same model: a licence, lender access and the platform

Regulators set licensing timelines. Openings are management's targets and depend on licensing, lenders and capital. See the forward-looking statement at the foot of this page.

7. The plan

The Manitoba dealer permit application is under way with the regulator, with an office inside the OPENLANE Winnipeg auction facility arranged; opening is targeted for December 2026, when the permit is granted. Ontario registration is under way, targeted for 2027, subject to registration and capital. The Maritimes follow Ontario, and the United States is on the roadmap from 2028, after the Canadian roll-out. Management's plan assumes growth capital in fiscal 2027; no terms have been set, and nothing on this site is an offer of securities. OCAL does not publish a forecast: the audited statements and the monthly operating update show the machine as it runs.

8. Why it is hard to copy quickly

The licences to sell and finance vehicles remotely took two years to win in British Columbia. We hold BC and Alberta, with Manitoba and Ontario under way. Seven lenders, prime to non-prime, are on our panel. We have more than 1,500 funded transactions of data on which leads convert, which lenders approve whom and what a car is worth before anyone else bids. Lead generation, the CRM and the AI sales agents run on one platform: every deal on one screen, and an AI agent takes the 3 am lead (a lead answered inside five minutes is about 21 times more likely to qualify than one answered after thirty, per the MIT and InsideSales lead response study).

9. The thesis

A revenue-generating, asset-light platform with a largely fixed cost base and a model designed to scale without the inventory cost of the industry it serves. The founders hold about 54 percent, escrowed for 36 months under exchange policy, and have not sold a share.

FIVE STEPS. NO LOT. NO LOAN BOOK. (/HOW-IT-WORKS/)

Title tag: How OCAL Works | OCAL Financial (TSXV: OCAL)
Meta description: How OCAL finances and sources a vehicle, approval first: apply, qualify, approve, match through OPENLANE, deliver. Who carries the risk, how OCAL earns.

THE MODEL

OCAL is the licensed motor dealer of record on every transaction. The customer is approved by a lender first; only then do we buy the vehicle, at wholesale, against that approval. Here is each step, who does it and what it costs.

Buttons: See the operating metrics

1. Apply A full credit application on the customer's phone, from any credit tier, through OCAL's own lead engine.
2. Qualify AI first contact within minutes, day or night, then a specialist verifies and warms the file.
3. Approve The file goes to the lender that fits, prime, near-prime or non-prime. The lender sets the rate and the amount.
4. Match Only now do we shop: two or three vehicles from OPENLANE's marketplace that fit the approval, presented through our own CRM. The customer can be as specific as they like; we are buying for one person, not for a lot.
5. Deliver Digital signing, we buy and recondition the vehicle, and deliver it anywhere in the province. The test drive is in their driveway. The trade-in leaves on the same truck.

Where the cars come from OPENLANE, formerly ADESA Canada, is the largest wholesale vehicle marketplace in the country and OCAL's auction and sourcing channel. Dealer trade-ins, off-lease returns, retired rental units, repossessions and consignments flow into it at wholesale, and only licensed dealers can buy there. On a typical day more than 3,000 vehicles are visible on its Canadian marketplace. OCAL owns none of them: a vehicle is bought only when a specific approved customer is ready to buy it, so it is on our books for days, never on speculation. OCAL's own representatives review units at the lanes and run the bidding. Zero standing inventory does not mean zero cars. It means no car is bought before its buyer is approved. We stock access.

Who carries the risk

RISK	WHO HOLDS IT	WHY
Credit risk on the loan	The lender	OCAL originates the contract for a panel of prime, near-prime and non-prime lenders and holds none of the paper. Fewer than one percent of the vehicle loans arranged through OCAL's platform from its first funded transaction in 2021 to 30 September 2026 have resulted in repossession (management information, based on lender reporting).
Inventory risk	Nobody, for more than a few days	A vehicle is bought against a locked approval and delivered after reconditioning and inspection. Used-vehicle price swings touch a car that is ours for three to five days far less than a lot that holds one for 48.
Floorplan interest	Minimal	A purchase line funds the vehicle for the days OCAL owns it, not for months.
Regulatory	OCAL	Licensed motor dealer in British Columbia (VSA D50207) and Alberta (AMVIC B2036050); each new province is a new registration, bonding where required and a compliant presence.

How OCAL earns on each transaction

LAYER	WHAT IT IS
Vehicle margin	The difference between the wholesale price plus reconditioning and the retail price to the approved customer. Deliberately modest: the volume carrier.
Lender reserve and program incentives	Paid by the lender for originating the contract at the program's terms. Part of every funded deal.
Protection products	Extended warranty, gap coverage and similar, sold at contracting, with a very high attach rate because the budget is set before the car is chosen.
Delivery, documentation and permitted fees	Charged where permitted and disclosed by province.

The sum of these layers per funded deal is reported as gross profit per vehicle on the Operating metrics page. Retail vehicle sales carry the top line, which is why the consolidated gross margin reads low while the margin per transaction reads like a finance office's.

The technology, plainly

Capable AI tools are available to anyone, so the advantage is not any one piece of software. It is the combination of licences, lender approvals, five years of transaction data and a team that has done more than 1,500 of these deals. The point of the technology is operating leverage: more funded vehicles per employee, so capacity grows with demand rather than payroll. The pieces: an AI agent that answers every lead in seconds, a credit-intelligence engine that routes each file to the lender most likely to fund it, the OCAL Showroom view of every desk and every deal, and a CRM built for remote, approval-first transactions.

The customer, in one story

A 34-year-old in Red Deer with a near-prime file needs a truck for work. She applies on Tuesday evening; an agent responds within a minute and books a call for Wednesday morning. The specialist builds the file, the credit engine routes it to a near-prime lender with an appetite for trucks, and the approval locks on Thursday at a budget and a term she can carry. OCAL's buyer finds a two-year-old half-ton at the OPENLANE Edmonton lane on Friday, inside the budget, with a clean history, and buys it against her approval. She signs remotely the following Tuesday, adds an extended warranty, and takes delivery at her workplace on Thursday. The lender funds OCAL the following Monday. OCAL owned the truck for six days and never owned her loan.

The repossession rate is management information, unaudited. A funded vehicle transaction is a retail vehicle sale arranged through OCAL's platform for which the customer's financing contract was funded by a lender and the vehicle was delivered to the customer. The cumulative count is drawn from the Company's transaction records and lender reporting since its first funded transaction in 2021 and is not a measure presented in its financial statements. The interim financial statements and MD&A for the nine months ended 31 May 2026 are filed on SEDAR+ and listed below. Fiscal 2026 closed on 31 August 2026; the audited annual statements and MD&A are due by 29 December 2026 and will be posted here the day they are filed. This site quotes audited figures only.

At every reporting date the balance sheet shows a small inventory balance and a matching floorplan balance: the vehicles bought against approved customers and awaiting delivery on that day, and the purchase line that funded them. Days of vehicles, not months. That is what zero standing inventory looks like on a balance sheet.

One line on a number you may have seen elsewhere

Figures for fiscal 2025 circulated before the audit was complete and differ from the audited figure. The audited figure is $6.48 million. Everything OCAL writes uses the audited figure.

Cash, and the going-concern note

OCAL is at an early stage as a public company. Its financial statements, audited and interim, carry a going-concern note, which is common for Venture-listed companies at this stage: it says the Company needs volume or capital to fund its plan. The July 2026 financing raised $1.5 million. Management's plan assumes growth capital in fiscal 2027; no terms have been set, and nothing on this site is an offer of securities. The operating metrics are published every period so that progress towards profitability is visible rather than asserted. Cash at each reporting date is in the filed statements linked below; OCAL does not publish cash figures between reporting dates.

Vehicles funded and delivered is a supplementary financial measure, and average vehicle selling price, gross profit per vehicle and gross margin per vehicle are non-GAAP financial measures or ratios; none is a measure defined under IFRS. OCAL calculates them as described on the Operating metrics page, applies the same definitions every period, reports them unaudited, and reconciles the per-vehicle figures to the revenue and gross profit lines of its financial statements in the release that carries them. They should be read with the financial statements and MD&A filed on SEDAR+.

OPERATING METRICS

Anyone can sell a vehicle. What makes OCAL different is the margin per vehicle on a platform that holds no standing inventory, and the fixed cost base that margin has to cover. So we publish the operating metrics in a monthly results release, under fixed definitions, and keep the history here.

Buttons: Latest news release

The audited totals the metrics are built on

[Widget: audited-table]

The monthly series starts with October 2026, reported in the monthly results release of 10 November 2026. Until then this page shows the audited fiscal 2025 and fiscal 2024 totals only.

Monthly history

Each month is added here the day its release is issued, beside the prior month, under the definitions below: vehicles funded and delivered, average vehicle selling price, gross profit per vehicle on both bases and gross margin, with the reconciling items stated. The Chief Financial Officer confirms every figure against the ledger before it is released. Once a metric is reported it is reported every month, including in a slow one.

Definitions, fixed

METRIC	HOW OCAL CALCULATES IT
Vehicles funded and delivered	Retail vehicle sale contracts funded by a lender and delivered to the customer in the calendar month. A deal counts once, in the month the lender funds it.
Average vehicle selling price	Vehicle sales revenue in the month divided by vehicles funded and delivered, before taxes and before protection products.
Deal gross profit per vehicle (management basis)	Gross profit on the vehicle plus finance, insurance and protection product income, per funded vehicle, before inventory write-downs and before the auction, reconditioning and transport costs that IFRS places in cost of sales. Shown split into vehicle margin and finance, insurance and protection income. A non-IFRS ratio; management information.
Gross profit per vehicle (IFRS basis)	Gross profit as reported in the financial statements for the month, divided by vehicles funded and delivered. The items that make up the difference from the deal basis are stated beside it each time.
Gross margin	Gross profit (IFRS basis) as a percentage of total revenue in the month. Fiscal 2025 audited: 12.5 percent.
Period and cadence	Calendar month, reported in the monthly results release after the month closes, starting with October 2026 on 10 November 2026. Each figure is shown beside the prior month. Monthly figures are stated as approximate; once started, the series continues in weak months.

Vehicles funded and delivered is a supplementary financial measure, and average vehicle selling price, gross profit per vehicle and gross margin per vehicle are non-GAAP financial measures or ratios; none is a measure defined under IFRS. OCAL calculates them as described on the Operating metrics page, applies the same definitions every period, reports them unaudited, and reconciles the per-vehicle figures to the revenue and gross profit lines of its financial statements in the release that carries them. They should be read with the financial statements and MD&A filed on SEDAR+.

Why these four, and why historical only

These are the numbers an investor or a banker needs to reconstruct OCAL's operating leverage: how many vehicles, at what price, earning how much each, against a cost base that is largely fixed (operating expenses of $1,114,195 in fiscal 2025, audited). Gross profit per vehicle is shown two ways because the deal-level figure the founders quote (before write-downs and the auction, reconditioning and transport costs that IFRS places in cost of sales) and the audited figure answer different questions; both are stated, with the difference. The metrics are reported for closed months only. Targets and run-rates are not published. A metric reported once is reported every month, including in a slow one.

What to watch alongside them

INDICATOR	WHY IT MATTERS	WHERE YOU WILL SEE IT
Vehicles funded and delivered per month	The single number the model turns on; the largely fixed cost base does not grow with it	Every monthly results release; quarterly MD&A
Acquisition cost per funded deal	Expected to fall as lead generation, the CRM and the AI sales agents run on one platform; reported when a results release carries it	Results releases; MD&A
Gross profit per vehicle (both bases) and protection attach (about 98 percent of funded transactions, management information)	Whether volume comes without giving up margin	Every monthly results release; MD&A
Cycle time	Lead to signed, signed to funded; shorter is cheaper	Operational releases
Licences	Manitoba (dealer permit application under way), Ontario (registration under way), then the Maritimes	News releases, when granted
Cash and financing	Runway for the roll-out	Quarterly statements; financing releases

NEWS RELEASE · 3 NOVEMBER 2026 · VANCOUVER, BRITISH COLUMBIA

Fewer than one in a hundred vehicle loans arranged since 2021 has ended in repossession; approximately 99 percent of signed contracts have been funded by lenders; annual general and special meeting on December 10, 2026.

Vancouver, British Columbia (Newsfile Corp., November 3, 2026). OCAL Financial Inc. (TSXV: OCAL) (FSE: JC3) ("OCAL" or the "Company"), the technology-enabled automotive financing and purchasing platform that gets Canadians approved for financing first and holds no standing vehicle inventory, today announced that fewer than one percent of the vehicle loans arranged through its platform since 2021 have resulted in repossession, according to management information for the period from the Company's first funded transaction in 2021 to September 30, 2026, based on lender reporting.

The Company believes this historical performance reflects the effectiveness of its credit verification procedures, lender relationships, disciplined financing practices, and customer-first approach that prioritizes financial eligibility and affordability before vehicle selection.

With more than 1,500 cumulative funded vehicle transactions and audited revenue of $6.48 million in the fiscal year ended August 31, 2025, OCAL has an established commercial operating history while maintaining an asset-light structure that eliminates the need for standing vehicle inventory. A funded vehicle transaction is a retail vehicle sale arranged through OCAL's platform for which the customer's financing contract was funded by a lender and the vehicle was delivered to the customer; the cumulative count is drawn from the Company's transaction records and lender reporting since its first funded transaction in 2021 and is not a measure presented in its financial statements.

Operating Highlights

Disciplined Transaction Quality and a Scalable Business Model: OCAL's process begins with financing approval and ends with the vehicle, reversing the conventional dealership sequence.

Through its approval-first approach, OCAL verifies each customer's identity, income, creditworthiness and financing eligibility, explains the approval in plain terms, and only then sources a vehicle that fits the approved terms. This approach is designed to improve transaction quality, reduce financing uncertainty and strengthen lender confidence.

According to management, approximately 99 percent of signed customer contracts were successfully funded by lenders over the period from the Company's first funded transaction in 2021 to September 30, 2026, reflecting the Company's ability to convert approved transactions into completed vehicle sales. Unlike a lender, OCAL does not retain consumer loans on its balance sheet or assume the associated credit-default risk.

Commercial Traction and Operating Efficiency: OCAL's revenue model combines vehicle sales with financing-related compensation and protection products, creating multiple sources of revenue on every transaction. Management reports that approximately 98 percent of funded transactions include a warranty or other protection product, and that repeat and referral customers accounted for approximately 17.6 percent of funded transactions over the previously disclosed trailing twelve-month period. Every vehicle OCAL sells is under five years old, inspected and reconditioned before delivery, and carries a two-year, unlimited-kilometre warranty.

Technology-Enabled Compliance and Scalable Infrastructure: OCAL operates through a centralized digital workflow that integrates customer verification, financing approvals, vehicle sourcing through OPENLANE Canada after approval, digital contracting and delivery to the customer's door, with every disclosure, signature and transaction recorded. The Company is licensed in British Columbia and Alberta and intends to apply the same infrastructure as it expands into additional Canadian markets, subject to applicable licensing and regulatory approvals.

Management Commentary

“Maintaining a repossession rate below one percent over our operating history reflects the discipline behind every transaction and the trust we work to build with our customers.” Mehdi Moghareh, Chief Executive Officer

“Many customers come to us facing challenges with financing approval, finding the right vehicle, accessing a dealership or simply understanding their financing options. We solve the problem first, and the vehicle follows. Our approval-first model builds trust with customers and lenders while providing a scalable foundation for long-term growth and profitability.” Mehdi Moghareh, Chief Executive Officer

Operating Performance

Transaction Economics and Path to Profitability

OCAL's asset-light business model is designed to generate multiple revenue streams from each funded vehicle transaction while maintaining a largely fixed operating cost structure. In the fiscal year ended August 31, 2025, the Company's audited revenue increased 18.8 percent to $6,480,254, gross profit increased 32.7 percent to $810,751, or 12.5 percent of revenue (fiscal 2024: $610,787, or 11.2 percent), and operating expenses decreased 9.8 percent to $1,114,195, narrowing the operating loss to $303,444 from $624,056. Finance, insurance and other products contributed $701,727 of fiscal 2025 gross profit.

The Company's operating costs are largely fixed. As transaction volumes increase, OCAL has the potential to spread its fixed costs across more vehicle sales, improving operating efficiency and advancing toward profitability. Beginning with its November 10, 2026 news release, OCAL intends to report operating metrics for each closed month, using the same definitions each time.

The fiscal 2025 and fiscal 2024 figures above are taken from the Company's audited financial statements for the year ended August 31, 2025, filed on SEDAR+ at www.sedarplus.ca.

2026 Annual General and Special Meeting of Shareholders

The Company also announces that it will hold its annual general and special meeting of shareholders on December 10, 2026 at 9:00 a.m. (Vancouver time) at Suite 1600, 925 West Georgia Street, Vancouver, British Columbia (the "Meeting"). The board of directors of the Company has fixed the close of business on November 2, 2026 as the record date for the Meeting. At the Meeting, shareholders will be asked to: (i) set the number of directors of the Company at four; (ii) elect directors of the Company for the ensuing year; and (iii) approve the adoption of a new omnibus equity incentive plan of the Company to replace the Company's existing stock option plan.

In connection with the completion of the Company's qualifying transaction on July 15, 2026 (the "Qualifying Transaction"), Crowe MacKay LLP resigned as auditor of the Company, and DMCL LLP was appointed as auditor of the Company. Accordingly, at the Meeting, shareholders will also be asked to re-appoint DMCL LLP as auditor of the Company until the next annual meeting of the Company and authorize the directors to fix its remuneration. In the opinion of the Company, no "reportable event" (as such term is defined in Section 4.11(1) of National Instrument 51-102 Continuous Disclosure Obligations ("NI 51-102")) has occurred. The Company is relying on Section 4.11(3)(a) of NI 51-102 for an exemption from the change of auditor requirements of Section 4.11 of NI 51-102.

Further details concerning the Meeting will be set out in the Company's management information circular, which will be sent to shareholders and made available under the Company's profile on SEDAR+ at www.sedarplus.ca in advance of the Meeting.

OCAL Financial (TSXV: OCAL, FSE: JC3) is a technology-enabled automotive financing and purchasing platform. It solves the customer's problem first: approval by a lender, then the one vehicle that approval supports, bought at wholesale through OPENLANE, OCAL's auction and sourcing channel, and delivered to the driveway. Zero standing inventory, no consumer loans held, the licensed motor dealer of record on every transaction. Audited fiscal 2025 revenue of $6.48 million, up 18.8 percent, with gross profit up 32.7 percent and operating expenses down 9.8

percent; more than 1,500 funded vehicle transactions since 2021; a largely fixed cost base that does not grow with the count; licensed in British Columbia and Alberta, with the Manitoba dealer permit application under way and Ontario registration under way, targeted for 2027, subject to registration and capital. The founders hold about 54 percent and have not sold a share.

A funded vehicle transaction is a retail vehicle sale arranged through OCAL's platform for which the customer's financing contract was funded by a lender and the vehicle was delivered to the customer. The cumulative count is drawn from the Company's transaction records and lender reporting since its first funded transaction in 2021 and is not a measure presented in its financial statements.

Four problems bring a customer to OCAL: they cannot get approved where they shop, cannot find the right vehicle at a payment they can carry, live hours from the nearest lot, or have never had financing explained to them. OCAL redesigned the vehicle purchase around the customer's financial eligibility, needs and convenience. The customer is approved by a lender first, prime or non-prime; then we buy the one vehicle the approval supports from OPENLANE's marketplace and deliver it to their driveway. No lot, no standing inventory; a new market costs a licence, a bond and a small office, not a building.

Why investors lean in

- Proven commercial traction. More than 1,500 funded transactions and audited revenue of $6.48 million in fiscal 2025, up 19 percent, from two provinces with no growth capital.
- Operating leverage. A largely fixed cost base that does not grow with the count; as volume increases the Company has the potential to spread it across more vehicle sales. In fiscal 2025 revenue rose 18.8 percent and gross profit 32.7 percent while operating expenses fell 9.8 percent, and the operating loss halved.
- A market that wants it. 48% of buyers want to apply for credit online, 33% can (Cox, 2026); 77% of Canadian buyers finance or lease; OCAL's lender panel covers prime to non-prime.

The three questions every diligent investor asks first

What is the going-concern note, and what is the plan?

The audited and interim statements carry a note that the Company needs volume or capital to fund its plan, which is common for Venture-listed companies at OCAL's stage. The July 2026 financing raised $1.5 million. Management's plan assumes growth capital in fiscal 2027; no terms have been set, and nothing on this site is an offer of securities. The operating metrics are published every period so that progress towards profitability is visible. Cash at each reporting date is in the filed statements; OCAL does not publish cash between reporting dates. (Answer dated 4 November 2026.)

I have seen more than one FY2025 revenue figure. Which is right?

$6.48 million, audited. Other figures circulated before the audit was complete. Everything OCAL writes uses the audited figure.

What does 'more than 3,000 vehicles' mean, and what does OCAL own?

More than 3,000 vehicles are visible on OPENLANE's Canadian marketplace on a typical day. OCAL owns none of them. OPENLANE is OCAL's auction and sourcing channel; a vehicle is bought only after a specific customer is approved, and it is on OCAL's books for three to five days before delivery. Zero standing inventory means no car is bought before its buyer is approved.

The business

The financial statements show inventory and a floorplan facility. How is that zero standing inventory?

Because a vehicle bought against an approved customer sits on the balance sheet for the few days between purchase and delivery, and the purchase line that funds it for those days shows as a floorplan facility. At every reporting date those balances are days of vehicles, not months. Nothing is bought on speculation, and no vehicle is held waiting for a buyer.

Where does the revenue come from?

Retail vehicle sales are about 87 percent of revenue ($5,630,980 of $6,480,254 in fiscal 2025); finance, insurance and other income is the rest. The vehicle sale carries the top line at a modest margin, and the finance and protection layer carries most of the gross profit, which is why gross profit per vehicle is the metric to watch.

Is OCAL a broker?

No. OCAL is the licensed motor dealer of record on every transaction: it approves, sources, contracts, delivers and takes the trade-in. A broker hands a customer to a lender or a dealer and steps away. What OCAL does not do is park cars on a lot and pay interest on them.

Where do the cars come from?

OPENLANE, the largest wholesale marketplace in Canada and OCAL's auction and sourcing channel, with partner dealers and trade-ins behind it. OCAL's own representatives are at the auction sites to review units and run the bidding.

How long does OCAL own a vehicle?

Days. It is bought against an approved customer and delivered after reconditioning and inspection. It is never bought on speculation.

Why is the consolidated gross margin only about 12 percent?

Because retail vehicle sales carry the top line at a deliberately modest margin, and the margin per deal sits in the layer on top: lender reserve, protection products and fees. That layer is what the operating metrics report as gross profit per vehicle. Gross margin expanded from 11.2 percent in fiscal 2024 to 12.5 percent in fiscal 2025, audited, and 87 percent of fiscal 2025 gross profit came from finance, insurance and protection products.

How does volume change the economics?

The cost base is largely fixed: licences, people, systems and an office that do not grow with the count; commissions and other variable costs are additional. In fiscal 2025 revenue rose 18.8 percent and gross profit 32.7 percent while operating expenses fell 9.8 percent, and the operating loss halved. As volume increases, the Company has the potential to spread its fixed costs across more vehicle sales, and management is working towards profitability through volume. OCAL does not publish a profitability target, a date or financial guidance; Manitoba and Ontario are the volume markets, and the monthly results release shows the actual count.

Who are the lenders?

Seven lenders are live on OCAL's submission portal, prime to non-prime: RBC, Santander, iA Auto Finance, Eden Park, LendCare, Rifco and Iceberg. No single lender is the business; routing each file to the right one is.

Who takes the credit risk?

The lender. OCAL originates the contract and holds none of the paper. From the Company's first funded transaction in 2021 to 30 September 2026, about 99 percent of signed customer contracts were funded by lenders, and fewer than one percent of the vehicle loans arranged through the platform have resulted in repossession (management information, based on lender reporting).

Does OCAL own the vehicles it sells?

Only for the three to five days between buying one against an approved customer and delivering it. OCAL does not buy vehicles first and look for buyers second, does not run reconditioning plants, and does not lend the money or hold the loans. It earns the margin on the transaction without holding the paper or the inventory.

What is the AI actually doing?

Answering every lead in seconds so none go cold, packaging the credit file the way each lender wants it, routing it to the lender most likely to fund it, and showing management every desk and every deal in the Showroom. The result is more funded vehicles per employee.

What is happening to the customer-acquisition cost?

Lead generation, the CRM and the AI sales agents now run on one platform, with an AI agent answering every lead in seconds. The Company expects its acquisition cost per funded deal to fall as a result, and will report it when a results release carries it.

Does OCAL finance prime customers or only non-prime?

Both. A prime customer gets a prime rate from a bank on the panel; a near-prime or non-prime customer gets a finance-company loan. The market the big banks left behind is large, but it is not OCAL's whole customer base.

The shares

Why did a company this size go public?

To fund a national roll-out of a model that already works, and to have a listed currency for acquisitions and for recruiting. Public gave OCAL a currency and a window that private never could.

Who underwrote the listing?

It was a qualifying transaction with a capital pool company, Ronin Ventures Corp., not an underwritten IPO. The July 2026 financing was a private placement of 6,029,500 units at $0.25 for gross proceeds of $1,507,375.

Are insiders selling?

No. The founders hold about 54 percent, escrowed under exchange policy for 36 months, and have not sold a share. Insider trades are reported on SEDI within five days.

Are insiders buying?

Escrow and blackout rules limit insider purchases around results and material events. Any purchases are reported on SEDI within five days and summarized on the Governance page.

What is the warrant overhang?

About 11 million warrants, the bulk of them 6.0 million at $0.50 expiring July 2028. The full table, with exercise prices and expiry dates, is on the Stock page.

When do escrowed and hold-period shares become tradable?

The escrow schedule is on the Stock page: 15 percent of the principals' shares every six months from January 2027. The 6.03 million shares from the July 2026 financing become free trading on 8 November 2026.

Can US investors buy the shares?

Yes, on the TSX Venture Exchange through most US brokers, and in Frankfurt as JC3.

Is there analyst coverage or a market maker?

No analyst covers OCAL at this date; we will list every analyst here when one does. Integral Wealth Securities Limited provides market making under an agreement announced on 6 August 2026, at $6,000 a month and no securities compensation. Signal Capital Advisors provides investor relations under an agreement announced on 29 August 2026.

Does OCAL publish a share-price or valuation target?

No, never, in any forum. We publish the operating metrics and the audited statements and let investors do the arithmetic.

The plan

When is Manitoba?

The dealer permit application is under way with the regulator, with an office inside the OPENLANE Winnipeg auction facility arranged. Opening is targeted for December 2026, when the permit is granted; regulators set the timing, and OCAL does not announce a permit before it is granted. A Manitoba permit also serves Saskatchewan and northwestern Ontario customers.

When is Ontario?

Registration is under way, targeted for 2027, subject to registration and capital. Ontario is about 40 percent of Canadian vehicle transactions.

When is the rest of Canada?

After Ontario, the Maritimes, each market a copy of the first: a licence, a bond, a small office and a local team. Everything is subject to licensing, lenders and capital.

When is the United States?

On the roadmap from 2028, after the Canadian roll-out. Everything is subject to licensing, lenders and capital.

How much capital does the Company need?

Management's plan assumes growth capital in fiscal 2027 to fund Manitoba, Ontario and the provinces that follow. No terms have been set, and nothing on this site is an offer of securities.

Does OCAL publish a forecast?

No. OCAL publishes its audited statements, the operating metrics every period under fixed definitions, and the roadmap of markets with the status of each. Plan figures and targets are not published on this site.

What is the exit?

Management is building a national, licensed, approval-first platform to run it. OCAL does not comment on valuation or on any transaction.

What are the next milestones?

The first monthly results release on 10 November 2026; the annual general and special meeting on 10 December 2026; audited fiscal 2026 results by 29 December 2026; the Manitoba permit when granted; Ontario registration; and the first quarter of fiscal 2027 by 29 January 2027.

Standard description for third parties

Short (one line). Technology-enabled automotive financing and purchasing platform, licensed in British Columbia and Alberta.

Standard (for data vendors). OCAL Financial Inc. (TSXV: OCAL; FSE: JC3) is a technology-enabled automotive financing and purchasing platform transforming how Canadians finance and purchase vehicles. Built around an approval-first approach, OCAL connects customers with suitable financing options before sourcing a vehicle that meets their needs and budget. Its integrated platform brings together credit assessment and financial guidance, lender matching, vehicle sourcing, digital transactions and home delivery anywhere in the provinces it serves, eliminating the need to visit a traditional dealership. OCAL holds no standing vehicle inventory; it sources each vehicle only after a customer is approved, through OPENLANE Canada, its auction and sourcing channel. OCAL earns revenue from vehicle sales and related finance and protection products, and does not hold consumer loans or assume credit-default risk. Licensed in British Columbia and Alberta, OCAL generated revenue of $6.48 million (audited) in the fiscal year ended August 31, 2025 and has completed more than 1,500 funded vehicle transactions to date.

A funded vehicle transaction is a retail vehicle sale arranged through OCAL's platform for which the customer's financing contract was funded by a lender and the vehicle was delivered to the customer. The cumulative count is drawn from the Company's transaction records and lender reporting since its first funded transaction in 2021 and is not a measure presented in its financial statements.

Forward-looking information

This page contains forward-looking statements, including statements about planned markets, licensing, operating metrics and financing. They are based on management's current expectations and assumptions, are not guidance, and are subject to the risks described in OCAL's Filing Statement dated 9 July 2026 and its continuous disclosure on SEDAR+. Actual results may differ materially. OCAL does not undertake to update them except as required by law.

Specific forward-looking statements on this site include: the planned openings of Manitoba, Ontario and the Maritimes and a planned United States entry from 2028; the intention to raise growth capital in fiscal 2027; and the planned features of OCAL Showroom. Material assumptions include regulatory approvals on the timelines described, lender programs extended to new markets, availability of capital on acceptable terms, used-vehicle supply through OPENLANE, and operating economics consistent with the trailing period. Material risks include licensing delay or refusal, lender appetite through the credit cycle, used-vehicle price movements, competition, technology and data reliability, dependence on key people, availability of capital and the going-concern uncertainty described in the financial statements.

Non-IFRS and supplementary financial measures

Vehicles funded and delivered is a supplementary financial measure, and average vehicle selling price, gross profit per vehicle and gross margin per vehicle are non-GAAP financial measures or ratios; none is a measure defined under IFRS. OCAL calculates them as described on the Operating metrics page, applies the same definitions every period, reports them unaudited, and reconciles the per-vehicle figures to the revenue and gross profit lines of its financial statements in the release that carries them. They should be read with the financial statements and MD&A filed on SEDAR+.

Management information identified as unaudited (repossession rate, approval lift, cycle times, protection attach, repeat and referral share) is drawn from OCAL's operating systems and has not been audited or reviewed. OCAL does not publish forecasts or plan figures on this site.

No offer of securities

Nothing on this site is an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to buy securities in any jurisdiction. OCAL's securities have not been and will not be registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933 and may not be offered or sold in the United States absent registration or an exemption. Investors should read the Filing Statement, the financial statements and the MD&A on SEDAR+ and consult their own advisors.
